

The New Year is a great time to put away the old, and move on to the new. That can include everything from bad habits and bad cars to an outdated wardrobe and hairstyle.

La Mer Spa

Refresh your look in 2015

La Mer Spa is here to give you a whole new style change that will lift your look and your mood, putting a spring in your step for 2015.

The spa's team of stylists is up to date with the latest exciting trends, including the wavy bob and boho waves that recently featured heavily on international runways, along with eye-catching color, using balayage techniques.

"Balayage" is a French word meaning "to sweep or to paint." It allows for a sun-kissed, natural looking hair color - similar to what nature gives us as children - with softer, less noticeable re-growth lines. The principal idea is that less is more when creating soft, natural looks.

Maria Ainis

One of our What's Hot sales team members, Maria Ainis, happily stepped forward for a makeover by Kirsty Martin (hair) and Monica Tofan (makeup). Maria is naturally gorgeous anyway, but we think you'll agree that she was an absolute knockout by the end of the session.

Kirsty Martin – hair artist extraordinaire

Kirsty hails from the UK, and has 27 years in the hair industry under her belt. 20 of those were spent working for top London salons.

Her impressive career has taken her from salon clients to work in video, film and magazines in the city, teaching on stage at hair shows across Europe, and inspiring the hair community with new and innovative techniques and color trends.

She headed up hair teams for London Fashion Week over the past five years, holds a L'Oréal color degree that advanced her to color specialist level, and won a place in the L'Oréal Color ID artistic team, bringing together new color trends for L'Oréal worldwide.

Beyond all of these amazing points on her resume, Kirsty is also a qualified NVQ (national vocational qualification) training assessor.

She specializes in a wide variety of coloring, such as color correction, new trends i.e. balayage, ombre, root stretch, root fade, natural lights, and tones, position cutting and editorial hair-up and styling.

If you have been considering a change and fresh hairstyle this New Year, Kirsty is the one to consult. She even works on Sundays, as La Mer Spa is open seven days a week!
